

Seeking to put God's love into action, Habitat for Humanity of Greater Newburgh brings people together to build homes, communities and hope.

The City of Newburgh has been designated as the most distressed urban area in New York State. Plagued for many years by crime and blight, Newburgh's shortage of livable housing has created worst-case scenarios for thousands of hard-working families.

Habitat Newburgh has joined with the local community to create a sustainable solution to this adversity. To date, we have built, 90 houses and have accepted 101 families into our homeownership program. Our homeowners contribute nearly $500,000 annually to the city and school tax rolls. Habitat homes have restored more than $8 million to the city's assessed property values and are a driving force in the revitalization of this community. Together we can restore hope and promise to this city.
